Men collars

KENT

This elegant timeless collar is suitable for various types of faces and can be worn with any style of suit.

LONDON

One of the collars, which we also call „turndown collar“. The tips of the collar are more closed. The collar should be used with a tie and is more suitable for rounder and wider faces.

WINDSOR

For this open or shark collar, „cutaway collar“ or „spread collar“ is commonly used in international language and is characterized by outwardly shaped tips. This gives the wearer a sophisticated and confident look.

CUTAWAY

This is the widest „cutaway collar“ due to the extreme distance between the tips of the collar. More suitable for narrow faces to wear with a tie with or without a wide knot.

CURVED CUTAWAY

A curved version of the Cutaway collar.

UNIVERSITY

Longer variant of the BUTTON DOWN collar.

BUTTON DOWN

The most common collar for sports and casual shirts. The only difference from the King collar is that the tips of the collar are fastened with a button that still holds them in one place. It looks just as good with and without a tie.

COVERED UNIVERSITY

This „covered“ version of the collar is different from the standard button-down collar only in that the buttons holding the tips of the collar are buttoned up and hidden in the loop under the collar.

CLUB

This collar enjoyed popularity mainly from the early 20th century. Unlike other collars, the tips of this collar are rounded. It looks great if it is made as a contrast (a different color of the collar than the one used on the shirt). In some countries, this collar is experiencing a comeback.

TINY

The fashionable shorter variant of the Kent collar is intended for today's shirts. The trend is to shorten and slim clothes, and this collar is the right way.

SMART

Fashionable shorter version of the button-down collar for those who did not like the classic type of this collar.

DINNER

Formal type collar. Shirts with this collar are worn exclusively for evening social occasions in a tailcoat or tuxedo. A bow tie is a necessary accessory.

STITCHED DINNER

Same type and use as DINNER collar. This collar is even more conservative and is sewn from two parts - stand, overhang - unlike the one-piece Dinner collar.

BAND

Collar stand without its tips. A collar that experiences a comeback in leisure - and especially summer - shirts.

ETON

It is characterized by its elegant curved shape. It is a relatively small collar that looks great close to the neck, with or without a tie, or it can be worn unbuttoned.

KING

The tips of the collar are even more closed and longer than those of the London collar.

PIN

This collar is always worn with a tie. The tips of the collar are firmly connected through a hole with a metal needle. It keeps the collar in place and lifts the tie knot to give it a more aesthetic arch.

PIN PENNY

This collar is similar to a PIN collar, but the tips of this collar are rounded.
